

Located in the city of Campinas state of São Paulo, Brazil, the community-based Corsini Center was founded in 1987 and is a private non-profit organisation specialising in the training and prevention of HIV/AIDS and other STD (sexually transmitted diseases). It also provides non-discriminatory care and treatment for those with HIV/AIDS within a caring environment.

The dedicated team of 25 employees and voluntary workers, conventional and alternative, medical staff have treated over 5000 patients at the Center since 1987.

Treatment ranges through HIV testing, individual and family psychological assistance, occupational therapy, social services, dentistry and alternative medicine.

The Kite Village Project

The Corsini Center needs to grow, in order to supply the need of the population. This project includes three Child Support Units and a Multiple-use Area, where there will be developed activities such as theatre, computing, music, arts and cooking.

The purpose of this event is to raise money to fit out the kitchen.

About Rotary

Rotary International is a global network of service volunteers. It is the world's largest service organisation for business and professional people, with some 1,210,905 members operating in 168 countries world-wide.

There are some 58,000 Rotarians in Great Britain and Ireland in 1,845 clubs, helping those in need and working towards world understanding and peace. It is a fulfilling role, and Rotarians can get involved as much or as little as their time will allow.

But there is much more. Clubs meet on a regular basis, which allows members to build firm friendships. Every Rotarian has a right to attend any Club meeting anywhere in the world, so there is always somewhere to go, and people to meet, wherever business or leisure travel may take you.

The Brickhills Rotary Club of Milton Keynes is a fine example of one of the more modern type of Rotary clubs. Whilst retaining all the excellent aims and objects of the Rotary organisation, this Rotary club actively addresses the more exacting pace of life we all lead today.
